

Lower is better in both columns. Dashed red is $J = 0$; a curve below it is a genuine gain, and only the constant field spends any time there.

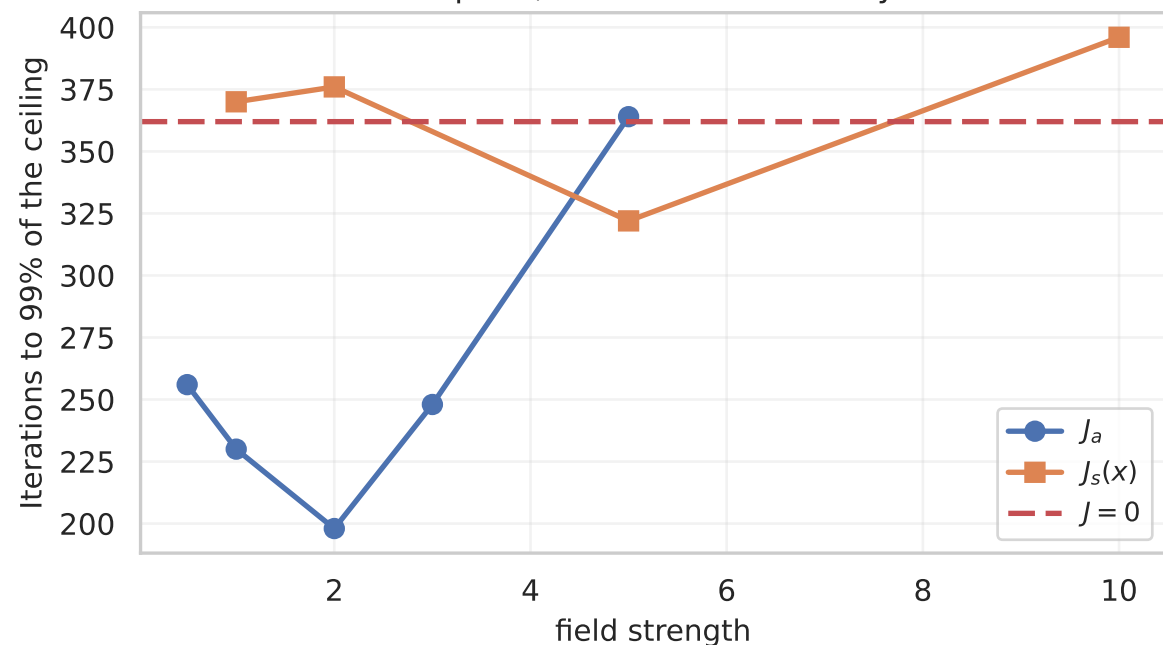

Telescope: speed, read off the accuracy curve

Telescope: accuracy of the sampled law itself

Titanic: speed, read off the accuracy curve

Titanic: accuracy of the sampled law itself

